Please Note that I will require a £25.00 deposit for the Bride and £10.00 per extra person for a wedding booking which is deductible from the final amount.

Once I have received the deposit I will forward you a receipt and we can arrange a trial date to suit.

On the day of the trial if you are completely satisfied with everything I will take full payment for the booking of all people requiring hair and makeup for on the day and a Receipt will be forwarded.

If for any reason once the balance has been paid and a person no longer requires the services for either hair or makeup unfortunately there will not be a refund issued. This is due to the fact that it is very hard to find a replacement booking if short notice has been given and Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays are extremely busy and someone else could have been accommodated.

I will also charge for fuel anything outside of my 30mile radius @ 45p per mile.

Please feel free to contact me for further information.

Makeup Tuition (to put on home page after asian Bridal)

Applying makeup should be enjoyable; never a chore or a cause for stress and should simply be used as a tool to enhance your own natural beauty.

My Makeup tuition is available either on a one to one basis or in groups where 'mini tutorials' are personalised for each guest to create a fun party atmosphere. These mini tutorials are great for Hen Parties or a good girly get together.

Makeup Tuition (on beauty treatment page)

Private Makeup tuition:

The session can be customised so that you learn exactly what's right for you, for whatever stage you're at in life.

These Tutorials take place in the privacy of your own home.

A couple of ideas of what can be achieved:

A sort out of your cosmetic bag:

This involves a thorough weeding of your existing products to identify the great products you already have, the not so great ones and the ones that are past there best.

Maximising your products:

Before embarking on your next shopping trip, find out where the gaps are in your cosmetic bag. Avoid wasting money on useless products and find ways to achieve great looks with your existing products.

Bridal Makeup Tuition:

An in depth tutorial for those brides getting married abroad or brides who are a dab hand with a makeup brush and own a good selection of quality products and brushes.

At your tutorial we will put together an easy to follow write up and face chart to include a shopping list for any additional products needed.

Please note that some products I will be able to sell at a reduced price with any tutorials booked.

Group Tutorials

Each guest can pick something they would like to learn about i.e eyes, eyebrow enhancing, lips etc.

You can also give a Make up Tuition as a gift.

All Makeup Tutorials are given by Rachael McNeela
